

Stuff

THE HOTTEST RIDES OF 2005
PAGE 84

THESE SHOTS ARE MONEY!
HOT HONEYMOON PICS
HOT HONEYMOON PICS

NICKY HILTON!

AND YOU THOUGHT PARIS WAS BURNING!

SEX ON DEMAND
Anytime! Anyplace! Any girl!

TEAM AMERICA ATTACKS!
On the set with the South Park guys

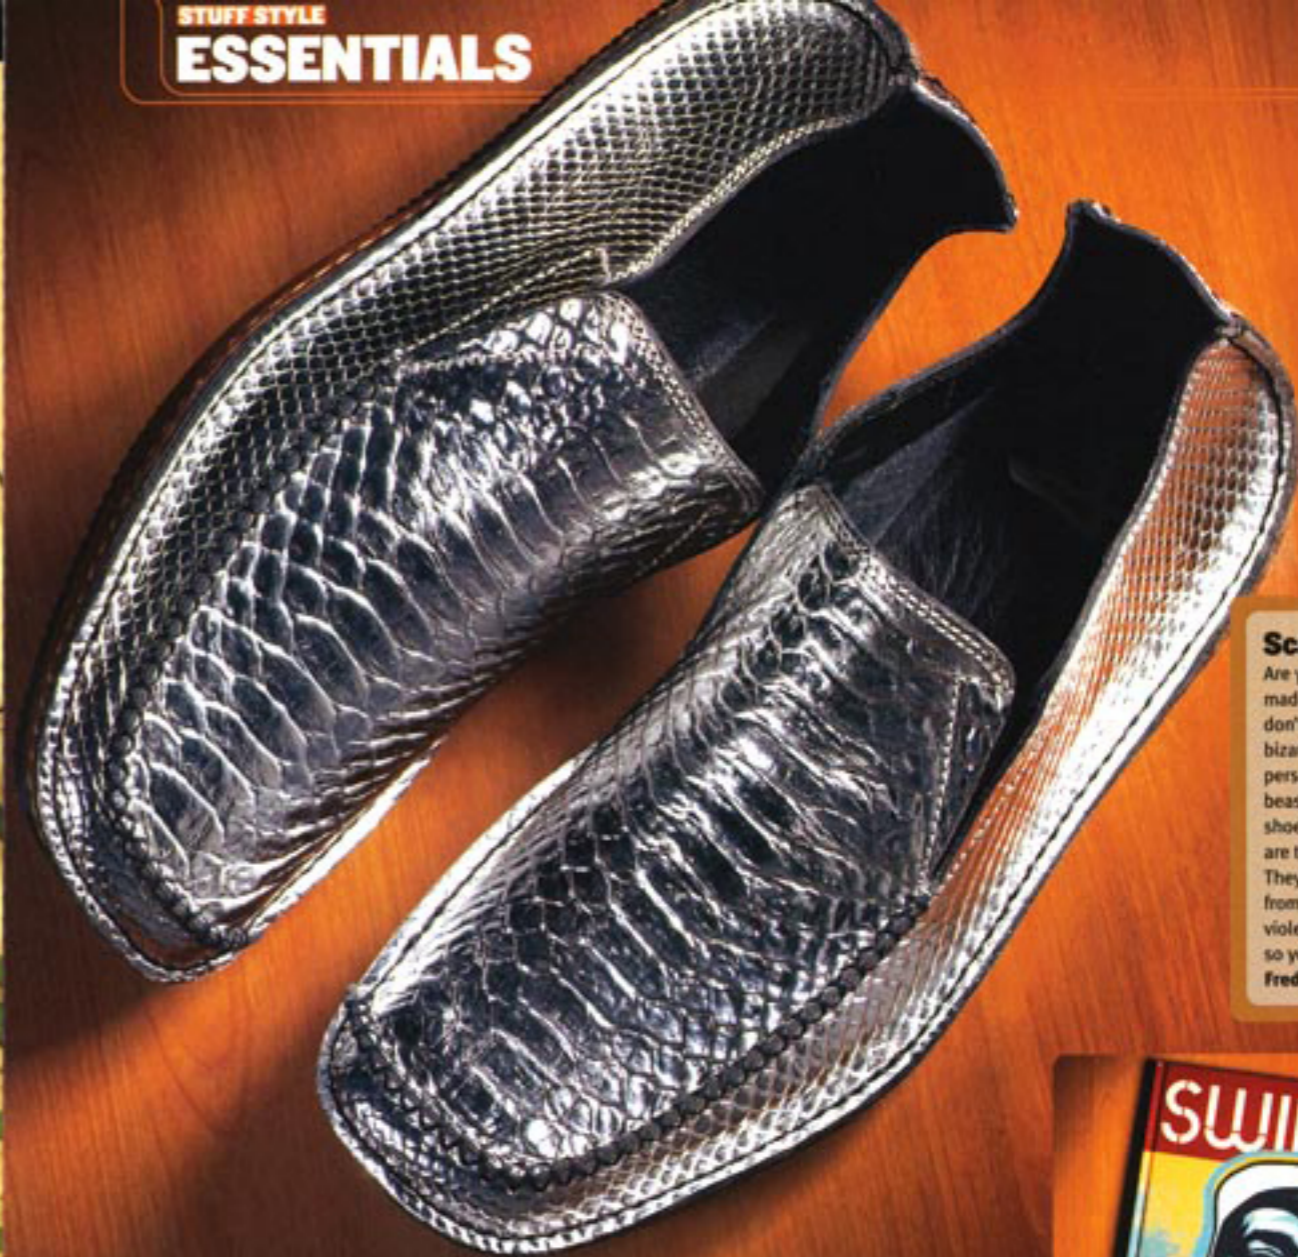

NBA BLOWOUT! p.108
PREDICTIONS! INTERVIEWS!
ROOKIES! PATHETIC HAIRCUTS!

StuffMagazine.com
November 2004

PLUS JON STEWART! METHOD AND RED! MISS UNIVERSE! GTA: SA!

STUFF STYLE ESSENTIALS

Scales back

Are you looking for shoes made of crocodile but don't have the time or bizarre backwoods personality to raise the beasts? These Tumble 2 shoes ($200) by J Shoes are the complete package. They're also made strictly from crocodiles that have violent criminal histories, so you'll feel less guilt. Fred Segal Feet, L.A.

Steal this magazine

Put out by Obeygiant founder Shepard Fairey, Swindle ($5) is a collectible pop-culture quarterly. Just like our Asian Invasion edition of Swank. (We keep it in its shrink-wrap.) Tower Records and Urban Outfitters stores

Fast Forward

New looks from ahead of the curve. BY JONATHAN STERN PHOTOGRAPHS BY ALEX CAD

Anniversary time

"That Karim Rashid. Always designing watches," is how our novel about Timex watch designer Karim Rashid would begin. He'd be wearing his signature watch ($150), one of three new designs for the limited-edition XFactor collection, celebrating the 150th anniversary of Timex. He'd get into a bunch of time-related adventures. And the novel would end with him getting eaten by a shark. A giant, prehistoric one. timex.com

Undie king

Just as the real crown jewels are safe inside the Tower of London, so are our testicles inside these Crown Jewels underwear ($15). Although they're touted as a sexier line of men's boxers, the pair of underwear here says something about quitting work. We guess some folks find our national unemployment rate sexy. mycrownjewels.com

